Organising Chairperson

8th MASP Biennial Scientific Meeting

Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain

Dear friends and colleagues,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, I cordially welcome you to the 8th MASP Biennial Scientific Meeting entitled “The Future of Pain Management: Translating Pain Knowledge into Practice” which will be held virtually on 29th to 31st July 2022.

The past two years have been particularly challenging for the world. While the Covid-19 pandemic has hijacked our attention and resources, the Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain (MASP) has never forsaken our mission to promote pain management and education. Despite the hardship, I am proud to announce that our organizing committee, scientific committee, and event partner are working relentlessly to ensure that our speakers, delegates, and sponsors will have a pleasant and seamless experience.

The disruption that is Covid-19 will continue to impact us in the foreseeable future. With this meeting, MASP would like pave a brighter future for the scholars, researchers, and clinicians in the field of pain management. Regardless of the discipline you are from and the career stage you are at, we are confident that you will gain meaningful insights from our comprehensive scientific program.

Pain and suffering do not give way to a virus, neither should our effort to manage pain and relief suffering.

We look forward to your presence at our virtual event.

WELCOME MESSAGE

from The Scientific Chairperson

Datin Dr Usha S. Rajah

Scientific Chairperson

8th MASP Biennial Scientific Meeting

Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain

My warmest greetings to all the guests and delegates. On behalf of the Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain (MASP), I would like to welcome you to our 8th MASP Biennial Scientific Meeting. This year, our conference is held on a virtual platform and focuses on “The Future of Pain Management: Translating Pain Knowledge into Practice”. In context with the multidisciplinary membership of our association and being a national chapter of the International Association for the Study of Pain (IASP), we have opened this meeting to all healthcare providers, allied health professionals and researchers from all fields.

We have compiled an interesting scientific program with plenary and symposium lectures by local and international experts, poster sessions and interactive workshops. We hope that participants will take this opportunity to keep up with the latest updates on pain management. All participants will have a chance to attend a workshop which is included in the registration and is part of the Scientific Meeting. This program may in addition allow all delegates from all fields to reflect upon, as well as acquire knowledge and explore the current and future research directions.

We further hope that this meeting will serve as a platform to stimulate pain education in different groups of healthcare providers so that we aim for a future where we work together to improve pain management in Malaysia.

Let's join hands for the future of pain management, for the prospective and collective efforts to change what is within our reach and means.

I would like to thank each and every delegate at this event for your interest in pain management and for your contribution to make this meeting a fulfilling experience for us all.

Datin Dr Usha S. Rajah

29th - 31st July 2022 (Friday - Sunday)

Malaysian Association

WELCOME MESSAGE

from The President, Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain

Dr Mary Suma Cardosa

President

Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain

It is with great pleasure that I would like to invite you to attend the 8th Biennial Scientific Meeting of the Malaysian Association for the Study of Pain (MASP), which will be held virtually on 29th to 31st July 2022.

I am glad that the MASP is still able to organise scientific meetings despite the challenging times we are facing. While we are all anxious to meet each other at face-to-face conferences, the MASP decided to be conservative and offer a virtual program again this year. On the bright side, having a virtual conference actually opens up opportunities like the ability to have more speakers from other countries and also more participants from Malaysia and the region. It also has the advantage of being recorded, and available even after the actual conference dates so that participants may view selected lectures at their own leisure.

While there are numerous virtual offerings of CPD activities now, and many of us may be “zoomed out”, I would appeal to you to strongly consider attending this conference. The unique aspects that we bring to you is a truly multidisciplinary faculty covering a large variety of topics - this will ensure that each and every delegate will find something that they are interested in, even passionate about. So, apart from gaining new knowledge and updating yourselves on the latest developments in the field of pain I hope that this conference will stimulate interest in the field of pain management (for those new to the field) and “keep the flame burning” for those who are already in this field.

I would also like to invite members of the healthcare industry to support this conference by taking a virtual booth and reaching out to our members through your presence and advertisements. Without your participation, we would not be able to run our conferences as well as other CPD programs throughout the year. Thank you for your support in the past, and I look forward to your continuing support.

Before concluding, I would like to acknowledge the hard work of the organising committee, led by Dr Shawn Lee Ji Kwan, and the scientific committee, led by Dr Usha Rajah - a million thanks to you and your committees for rising to the challenge of organising this conference. I would also like to thank our conference organiser YHM Events Sdn Bhd and our secretariat staff, Ms Lee Sook Huey, for doing all the work behind the scenes to ensure a smooth and efficient conference.
